Burned When Gasoline Explodes

One Dead, Six Injured In Milo Farmhouse Fire

One man is dead and five men are in Vulcan hospital suffering from severe burns as the result of a fire that completely demolished the farm home of Norman McCord of Milo early Tuesday morning. Also hospitalized with lacerations received when he jumped through a window to escape is Mr. McCord's 14-year-old son, Richard.

Percy Cubbon of Calgary died Tuesday after being admitted to hospital at about three a.m. He was the most critically injured, receiving burns on 95 per cent of his body. The other men now in hospital are receiving treatment for severe burns are Mr. McCord, William Beckner, Walter Kidder and Lawrence J. Smith, all of Milo, and Guy Christensen of Calgary. They are all expected to recover.

The men had been working on the farm during the day, moving wheat, and returned to the five-roomed farm bungalow at about midnight. At about 12:30 a.m. the engine that operates the farm lighting system stopped and one of the men went outside for a pail of gasoline to replenish the engine's fuel supply. In some manner, when he re-entered the kitchen, the pail overturned, spilling gasoline across the kitchen floor. It is thought that the pilot flame in the propane kitchen range ignited the gasoline fumes, for a terrific explosion resulted that turned the kitchen in which all the men were seated, into an inferno. All suffered burns in escaping from the house and in extinguishing the flames in each other's clothing. The son, Richard, asleep in an adjacent bedroom at the time, broke a window and escaped from the flames by this exit, receiving a number of lacerations from the broken glass. He was the only other occupant of the house, Mrs. McCord being in Calgary at the time.

As flames shot up from the farm house neighbors of the McCord family rushed to the scene and through their efforts the injured men were brought to the Vulcan hospital. A great deal of difficulty was experienced in getting the men to Vulcan, due to the storm conditions still prevailing and the badly drifted roads. A County snowplow was called out to clear the way and, at the hospital, the burned and injured men were attended by Dr. A. D. Tompkins and Dr. M. E. Kozol.

The accident is being investigated by the RCMP and Coroner Dr. Tompkins has stated that no inquest will be held.

Robert Brown Was Alberta Pioneer

Robert Brown, well known former Vulcan district farmer who died recently, was born in Fifeshire, Scotland near St. Andrews. Mr. Brown served in the North Railway Police before coming to Canada in May in the year 1893. On his arrival in Calgary as he left the train the mounted police stopped him and asked him if he would like to join them, but he refused saying that his intentions was to go ranching.

Mr. Brown worked on a ranch until 1895 when his brother Charlie and the girl of his choice came out from Scotland. Mr. Brown married Jessie Ross and they and Charlie Brown found and settled on land west of Didsbury. While at Didsbury Mr. Brown served as Justice of the Peace and also had a store and Post Office until 1913 when the family moved to Trochu and farmed there until the autumn of 1923, when they moved to Oregon. In the face of 1924 they moved to their present location in Vulcan. Mr. Brown's wife predeceased him in 1935.

The last few years Mr. Brown has been residing at the Pacific Coast and while there married Mrs. Alice Loney. Mr. Brown is survived by his widow, three daughters, Mrs. Annie Dowell, Mrs. Elsie Harvey of Blackie, Mrs. Isa Edgett of Port land, Oregon; one son, Andrew Brown of Vulcan. One daughter Mrs. Jessie Rankin, predeceased her father in 1946.

Blood Helped Save Lives of Milo Fire Victims

A graphic illustration of the value of the Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service was given in Vulcan Tuesday morning, when the men who were burned and injured in the farmhouse fire at Milo were brought to the Vulcan hospital.

Several bottles of blood plasma, supplied by the Red Cross are kept on hand at the hospital for emergencies and this entire stock of plasma was used to help the fire victims recover from the very severe state of shock. More plasma could have been used had it been available, but even the limited supply on hand proved invaluable and helped save the lives of some of the most severely burned men. Had there been time, whole blood could have been rushed from Calgary to meet the emergency.

Is there any better illustration of the need for and the good done by this free service of the Red Cross Society? This blood transfusion service, whereby life-giving blood is supplied free to anyone in this province, is entirely dependent upon voluntary donors for support.

A Blood Donor Clinic is being held at Vulcan on Thursday, Nov. 10 from 1:00 p.m. to 3:15 p.m. in the Legion Hall. Almost anyone can give blood, without discomfort or harm. Voluntary donors from the town and district, and from outlying points, too, are urgently needed so that the Red Cross can maintain a sufficient stock of whole blood and blood plasma. You are urged to attend this donor clinic on Nov. 10 and do your part to maintain this wonderful service.

Shower and Tea For Bride-elect

Miss Sherrie Clayton, bride-elect was honored at a miscellaneous shower, held last Wednesday evening, in the St. Aldhelm parish hall. Fifty guests were present and signed a guest book, later enjoying a varied and amusing program arranged by Mrs. Clay Snow. Mrs. Keith Elder presided at the piano and also provided soft background music later, during the opening of the gifts.

Cosages were presented to Sherrie and her mother, to Mrs. Bob Clayton and Miss June Joiner. The guest of honor was seated beneath a cluster of pink and white wedding bells, at a table laid with a lace cloth centered by a low bouquet and colorful candles.

A large, many-hued rainbow was arched over the gaily featured fireplace, with a huge 'pot of gold' at the rainbow's end. This 'pot of gold' proved to be more gratifying than the mythical one, containing as it did many beautifully wrapped gifts for the guest of honor's new home. Miss June Joiner made the presentation and expressed the good wishes of Sherrie's many friends.

Assisting Sherrie in opening her gifts were her mother and sister-in-law, Mrs. G. E. Clayton and Mrs. Bob Clayton. Miss Joiner was in charge of listing the gifts. The bride-elect very suitably thanked her friends for their kind wishes and the lovely gifts.

Later, a dainty lunch was served by a number of ladies who were hostesses for the occasion.

Some 25 neighbors and friends called Sunday afternoon at the G. E. Clayton home, when Mrs. Clayton entertained at a trossau tea in honor of her daughter, Sherrie, whose marriage to Earle MacLeod of Edmonton, takes place this week.

The tea table was laid with a crocheted lace cloth, with a low centric piece of bronze and red mums, flanked by red tapers.

Presiding at the tea urns were Miss Sadie McCartney, aunt of the bride-to-be, and Miss Eva McIntosh.

Miss Sharon Buehler was in charge of the guest book, while Miss June Joiner displayed the trossau and gifts.

Highlanders Attend Annual Inspection, Calgary

About 40 members of The Calgary Highlanders from Vulcan, Champion and Carmangay, many accompanied by their wives, journeyed to Calgary by chartered Greyhound bus on Sunday to take part in the annual inspection of the battalion by Hon. Col. Eric Harvie.

The Commanding Officer, Lt. Col. Mark Tennant, was in charge of the parade at Mewata Armouries and the "A" Company contingent was commanded by Major Bob Munro of Vulcan.

Following the inspection and march-past, members of the unit and their wives sat down to a full course meal in the Armouries. Guest speaker was Carl Nickle, M.P. of Calgary, a former officer in the reserve unit, who traced the history of the battalion, which perpetuates the 10th Battalion of the First Great War and is affiliated with the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders.

The annual pre-Christmas pay parade and dance of "A" Company, which has headquarters in Vulcan and platoons at Champion, Carmangay and Milo, will be held in the Vulcan Armouries on Friday, Dec. 9.

The Weather

Winter put in an early appearance on Sunday when high winds accompanied by light snow and low temperatures blocked some roads and made others slippery and treacherous. Temperatures this week have been in the 10 to 25 above range but the weather is expected to moderate somewhat on Thursday.

There are still a few fields of grain in the swath and another two or three days of dry weather would have seen harvest finally completed.

New Wheat Policy?

Within a month or so the Federal Government will announce a new policy which, it is claimed, will answer present criticisms. That promise came from Finance Minister Harris at a political meeting in Toronto.

There may be some surprise at the government's choice of speaker and place for such an announcement, states The Financial Post, but there will be none at all at the news that a new wheat policy is coming. A completely new policy has been needed and needed urgently for a long time.

We are not moving and selling wheat nearly as fast as we are producing it. We are losing our place as the world's biggest exporter. If we don't do something soon, a large part of Canada and an important segment of the national economy are going to suffer seriously.

Circuit Minister Visits Witnesses

The circuit by Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Spicer, visit minister and his wife for Jehovah witnesses in Southern Alberta, was enjoyed by the local congregation of Jehovah's witnesses. Special meetings were held and visits were made to various groups in the Vulcan, Lomond and Milo districts.

Slides of the recent series of international conventions held in Europe and various famous Christian historical sites were shown. Mr. Spicer discussed at some length, proofs and evidence, that the Bible was true and genuine. He and his wife are graduates of the Watchtower Bible College, Ithaca, New York. He is a close observer of the archeological discoveries and mentioned having examined different manuscripts at the British Museum, London, England, and also at the Vatican Museum, Rome, Italy. He also referred to visiting the Smithsonian Institute, Washington, D.C. where he saw the remains of a pre-historic animal uncovered from the ice in Siberia. Contents of the stomach revealed undigested green vegetation.

Mrs. Spicer proved to be an interesting and unique person, speaking English and French fluently.

Arrowwood-Mossleigh Club Holds Achievement Day

The Arrowwood-Mossleigh 4-H Grain Club was host to the Craigantler and Cluny Clubs at their annual Achievement Day which was held October 22 in the Arrowwood Community Hall.

The program got off to a start by the Club members repeating the 4-H Pledge. Norman Jacobson and Dale Wyatt gave a piano and violin duet. Howard Fulcher, judge of the wheat samples, next gave his remarks on the scoring of the samples. This was followed by a sing-song conducted by Leata Nicholson, Madeline Prowse and Elaine Joyce Stewart, all of Cluny.

Mr. Bell gave the plot winners in each Club their prizes. The winners were Tony Van-Weasie of Craigantler; Don Heeley of Cluny and Doug Green of Mossleigh.

Mr. Walker presented a trophy to the Grand Champion of the show with the best sample, John Campbell of the Arrowwood-Mossleigh Club and a cup to his brother Barry Campbell running a close second. Norman Jacobson received third place winnings in the Arrowwood Club. The first three winners of the Cluny Club were Dwan Prowse, Leata Nicholas and Madeline Prowse, respectively. The first three winners in the Craigantler Club were Charley Watson, Anne Tiede, and Ralph Tiede, respectively.

Barry and John Campbell gave an interesting account of the Experimental Farm Tour at Lethbridge this summer. Mr. Bell showed films of interest and the day was brought to a close.

Golf Course Ready Next Spring

Plan $12,000 Club House For Golf & Country Club

R. J. Willard, president of the Vulcan Golf and Country Club, announced the purchase of $18,000 worth of equipment at a club meeting held on October 18. The equipment includes a 5-gang mower, matts and other equipment required to put the course into operation next summer.

Plans were disclosed for the erection of a $12,000 club house on lands leased to the Club by the Town of Vulcan. The club house will include a dining room, a dance floor and refreshment bar and tennis courts are also planned for the club house area.

Construction is expected to commence next spring and is expected to be completed by fall. The Club proposes to finance the cost of the building by the sale of debenture bonds to Club members. Any person may become a member by the purchase of a membership for $1.00. Members will have a right to the use of the club house.

President Willard stated that the sale of debenture bonds has been better than expected. Club members can purchase any number of bonds by the payment of $5.00 down on each bond desired. The bonds have a par value of $25.00 and bear interest at the rate of 2% per annum, redeemable at par with interest in 25 years. The president stated that applications for bonds must total $8,500 before actual construction can take place.

The Club's Grey Cup draw will be held at the Armistice Day Dance in Vulcan on November 11. Winner will be entitled to an all expense trip to the Grey Cup game to be held in Vancouver.

The Club secretary reported that a large amount of grass seed was harvested from the Golf Links. The seed has been inspected and registered and will be sold in the spring.

There was a small ceremony during which new members were formally admitted to the Club. President Willard stated that the building of the Club house will mean a great deal to the social life of the district. It is expected that the Vulcan Club will have better facilities than the well-known Turner Valley Golf Club. "A lot depends on the people who want to join the Club. We need quite a number of members," said Mr. Willard.

Hallowe'en Damage Minimized By Radio-car Fleet

Hallowe'en passed quietly at Vulcan, although many of the smaller fry braved the snowdrifts and cold weather to make their annual "trick or treat" rounds.

In co-operation with Chief Constable J. L. Moyer and Constable Carruthers of the town police force, members of the signal section of "A" Company, Calgary Highlanders, participated in a signals training exercise designed to minimize damage by the older element.

Five cars, each with two men, were equipped with two-way portable radio sets and suspicious actions by groups on foot or in cars were immediately reported, enabling one of the two police cars to speed to the scene and nip the mischief in the bud. Three carloads of youths from out of town were thwarted at every turn and Chief Constable Moyer was able to report that Hallowe'en this year was the quietest on record.

Worger Heads A.T.A. Local

The annual meeting of the Vulcan local of the A.T.A. was held Friday afternoon, in the Palliser hotel in Calgary. After the business session, election of officers for the ensuing year was held, with the following slate being returned: President, Fred Worger, principal of the Vulcan Intermediate and High school; Vice-Pres., Miss Marion MacKay; Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. M. L. Todd, both of the Vulcan staff. Councillors: Charlie Carson, Milo, and Erwin Miklos, Mossleigh. The convention delegate, Tom Clark, Milo. Conference committee: Frank Burchak, Vulcan; William Davis, Brant; Don Yemans, Carmangay; Miss Marion MacKay, Vulcan; and H. Leikich, Lomond. Five more appointments will be made to this committee to represent other schools in the County.

Mrs. Dora Edwards of the Vulcan school staff was honored during the convention, by the Drumheller local, at a banquet Thursday evening in recognition of her seven years' service with the local at Drumheller. She was presented with an orchid corsage on this occasion.

Make Donations To Missionaries

The W.S.W.S met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lebsack for its regular monthly meeting.

Mrs. Elmer Lebsack, was in charge of devotions, the theme being, "Christian, Look at a Fellow Citizen." Two readings on American Indians were brought by Melita Lebsack and Dorothy McIntyre.

Mrs. Jantzie brought a very inspiring and challenging talk on "The Christian Way" pointing out that the Bible ought to be the road map and guide book, by which all ought to live.

Each of the ladies bought little flannelette baby shirts with donations basted inside a little pocket, which amounted in all, to $16.50. The shirts and donations will be sent to Rev. and Mrs. Brownlee, missionaries to Japan.

Miss Alma Hixt, missionary from Nigeria, was presented with 73 little flannelette baby shirts and a large quantity of rolled bandages. Those were given to her when she was here for the W.S.W.S Thanksgiving program.

Three missionary letters were read after which Mrs. Budd and Mrs. Wildeman led in prayer. The devotional part of the meeting closed and the business meeting opened with Mrs. Ruby Schierman presiding.

Roll call was answered with the usual Bible verse and as each answered, a donation towards Hillcrest Bible Institute in Medicine Hat was given.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Alex Hilz early in November.

A very delicious lunch was served by the hostess.

New Hi-C Club Names Officers

The newly-formed Hi-C young people's club of the United Church elected officers at a meeting held in the church last Sunday evening.

President is Gary Worger; co-president, Joyce Jordan; secretary, Jay Scott; treasurer, Robert Schrag.

Games were played and a lunch enjoyed following the business meeting.

Brownie Awards

The Scout-Guide Association meeting Oct. 19, saw two Brownies receive the Golden Hand, highest Brownie award. The presentation was made by Guide Capt. Mrs. Russell Graham in the absence of Brown Owl Mrs. Reuss who was in the hospital at the time. Those receiving the Golden Hand were Jean Hess and Susan Reuss. In absentia, Carolyn Gee. Wings were presented to Margaret Giles and Sandra Johnson at a Brownie "Fly-Up" on October 31.

Not a Good Enough Answer

Canada has a wheat problem. The 1955 harvest is practically finished, with quality and yield generally good. But that accentuates the problem, which is one of oppressive delivery restrictions, tightening markets and vulnerable prices.

The government has announced a measure of relief. It will guarantee $1,000 bank loans advanced to farmers who have plenty of wheat but are short of money. The interest rate will probably be 5 or 5½ per cent. Further, the government is putting stronger pressure on the U.S. to keep it from demoralizing normal Canadian markets.

Viewed against Canada's traditional policy of protection for secondary industry, the new government policy of guaranteeing loans is quite inadequate.

There's hardly a manufacturing industry in Canada which is not "protected" at the expense of the Canadian consumer. Why are cars, shirts, washing machines and ever so many other items more expensive here than in the U.S.? Mostly because the government has said they must be. And farmers are among the consumers who suffer most from that policy.

Now that the farmer himself is so hard-pressed, he is entitled to help or protection a little more substantial than mere bank loan guarantees.

Because most of the wheat is exported and must be sold at competitive prices the form of protection must be different than in the case of secondary Canadian industry. Perhaps a two-price structure would help—the Wheat Board selling the wheat to foreign markets at going prices and to Canadian processors and consumers at say $3 per bushel.

The Canadian marketing problem is caused to some extent by a succession of better-than-average crops. A couple of crop failures would drastically solve the problem, though creating one even worse. In a sense it is good that Canada has enough wheat on hand to carry it over one or two bad years.

And poor crops in other parts of the world would take the pressure off the price.

But in the meantime?

Since the people of Canada can't be ordered by the government to subsidize wheat producers directly in the same way they subsidize manufacturers, the time is fast approaching to consider an indirect subsidy through the medium of taxation.

If that time has not yet come, certainly something better than 5 per cent money is required.

The farmer, for instance, should be paid storage on say at least half of his grain. It costs him just as much to carry it as it does anyone else. At present, even the cost of storage of delivered wheat must be in the end borne by the producer. Direct payment—not loans—by the government to the farmer to cover the cost of storage would be in order.

More to the point, the government should make loans available on undelivered grain at no more than 2 or perhaps 3 per cent, perhaps even interest free. If a system of bank guarantees won't produce that kind of money then the government should advance the money itself.

The farmer has the wheat as security. When he delivers the wheat he is likely to get less, certainly not more, for it. His capital, in the form of wheat, is not only earning him no interest but it is costing him money to hold and is steadily becoming of less value. How, then, can he afford to pay 5 per cent interest on money advanced against it?

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

There are 62,000 members in the Farmers Union of Alberta and there are many farmers who have not yet joined. The Jubilee-Year Membership Drive is on November 16 and for the second time we must go out and canvas our neighbors to join his own organization. The organizing and carrying out of a drive such as this is a costly business and full co-operation with the canvasser when he calls will save both time and money.

By the time this is being read the combines and threshing machines will be stored for another year. We have had a good year; yields and grades have been better than for some time; we have a lot to be thankful for. Stooked and swathed fields have given way to straw piles and bins bursting with golden grain; yes, and we even see piles of it on the ground. The big problem now facing our farmers is to realize cash for his year's work. There are too many hungry people in other parts of the world to say there is an overabundance of grain, and the Farmer's Union stands for a policy of better distribution through world organizations.

The Farm Woman can help materially in solving these problems. It is she who has to help balance the family budget and her purchasing power depends on what the farm can produce and sell. We appeal to every man and woman on the farm to consider it his or her duty to join the Farmers' Union.

Thank you, Mr. Editor, for this space in your valuable paper.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Archie L. Hogg,
High River,
F.W.U.A. Alternate Director,
District No. 12.

The mobile team of Red Cross girls who will be in Vulcan on November 10 established something of a record this spring at Lethbridge, 1500 donors were taken in 17½ hours, an average of 85 an hour. Come in and see for your self what a simple and painless thing it is to give a donation.

HOW... DOES A STRONG FINANCIAL SERVICE Sell Wheat?

In many ways! The Treasury Branches stand behind the man on the land from the time he sows his crop until it is time to sell. We do this because we have confidence in Alberta and Alberta's farmers. Running a farm is like running any other business—money is necessary to purchase seed, repair machinery, or expand the farmer's interests. He also requires such protection as fire and hail insurance, and safety deposit boxes for titles, deeds and other valuables. By working in partnership with the farmer, we are serving the farmer himself, and the entire Province. For an active farm economy means higher living standards for the whole of Alberta. The full facilities of the Treasury Branches are geared to the special needs of not only the farmer, but all the people of Alberta.

Dark, dreary days depress canaries, too. They just don't feel like singing. But now—good news for canary colorists! If they'll arrange to have the bottom of their cages lined with aluminum, they'll sing through the darkest day. The light reflected from the sparkling metal foil gives their souls that springtime lift.

People find endless household uses for aluminum foil. So does industry—for everything from fire-fighting clothing to photo-flash bulbs, to wrapping for candy and food. Canada used 8 million pounds of foil last year. ALUMINUM COMPANY OF CANADA, LTD. (ALCAN)

Poppy Appeal Must Stand Alone

The poppy campaign is the only co-ordinated national appeal to the public for funds to alleviate distress among ex-service personnel and their dependents.

It is the only time that the Legion as a national institution goes to the public with an appeal for funds.

Because its primary aim is keeping alive the spirit of Remembrance Day, it cannot be merged with other community appeals.

It is the responsibility of Legion members to see that every person in Canada, who can be reached by this organization is given the opportunity of wearing a poppy or displaying a poppy wreath on Remembrance Day.

Every child should also wear a poppy, regardless of his ability to make any financial contribution. These citizens of tomorrow must be taught the significance of the poppy.

Each Legion member has a duty to perform by participating in the poppy campaign. For each member has, during the initiation ceremony, sworn to uphold the aims and objects of the Canadian Legion, among which are the following:

... to perpetuate the memory and deeds of the fallen and of those
